What I looked at

The file loaded and stitched on my machine without fuss.

The trim test. The thread was cut between the two short bars.

The satin. Clean columns at all three widths, and the fine one held on the curve.

The small letters came out crisp.

The signature in hand stitch still reads like a hand wrote it.

On the 5 x 7 sheet, the filled squares lie flat.

On the 5 x 7 sheet, my phone read the stitched code.

What stitched well, and what broke?

What confused you?
